

My name is Jessica Brogdon and I am a member of the Walnut Grove FFA Chapter. I would be honored to serve and represent the Georgia FFA Association as a State FFA Officer. I would like to encourage Georgia FFA members to value the importance of leadership and communication. I want to build lasting memories and friendships with members all across our state and country through chapter visits. My primary goal as a State FFA Officer is to take an active role in continuing the traditions of an organization that promotes acceptance amongst an ever changing agricultural industry and society.

Why I want to serve? This one question brings so many things to mind. I want to serve as a state FFA officer to keep developing my leadership skills as well as to repay the debt of what the FFA has given me. The FFA has grown me into the individual that I am today. From being a shy freshman, just entering high school, to an individual that isn't afraid to get his hands dirty and help out anyone who comes my way. God has blessed me with this amazing opportunity to be in this organization.

Georgia FFA, it is not enough to merely memorize our mission statement. I truly believe we must carry out our mission statement which expects us to develop premier leadership, personal growth, and career success. The combination of my agriculture background along with the leadership skills I have developed make me a perfect candidate who personally carries out our mission statement and is excited to serve as your Georgia State Officer. A proverb states, "If you want to go quickly, go alone." If you want to go far, go together. Here is our chance to go far, together with Brooklyn Carr.

I want to serve because I want all teenagers and young adults to understand the opportunities FFA has to offer- from career preparation to scholarships. There are many people who believe they do not fit in anywhere.

I can promise each and everyone of them they will fit into FFA. There is just one FFA organization and we are all just one family. Middle school and high school students alike should not only be themselves, but become something bigger than themselves. Only then can these young people live up their potential for "premier leadership", "personal growth", and "career success".

Why do I want to serve to be a leader. You may say that just sounds simple but it's not that leader means a lot deeper than you think. My first agriculture teacher Mr. Chism who now is a teacher at ware county high school taught me what it means to be a leader. He taught me being a leader starts with one person with one chance and with one goal. I want to push you Georgia FFA to be the leaders of tomorrow and step up and stand out to be that leader

I believe that everyone deserves a chance to succeed. I was a shy, friendless student my freshman year of high school. This was when FFA found me. I went from a shy, lonely student to a servant leader who stops at nothing to get the job done and it has become my undying passion that Georgia's FFA gets to experience this just as I have. FFA members your life can be changed in just one moment.

Let me, Tanner Graves, help you find that moment. Let me, Tanner Graves, help pave your path to success. And remember, Graves Paves the Way.

What more do we want from life than to find our purpose. A purpose that will define who we are and who we will become. When I put on this blue jacket time and time again I know I have a purpose. A PURPOSE to be a leader, to be a better person than I was yesterday, to advocate for an industry that we depend on. I know that I want to serve as one of your Georgia FFA State Officers to continue my purpose and to show you as members that there is a purpose for you in FFA.

Since the beginning of my FFA career, I knew I wanted to be a FFA State Officer. This organization has pushed me to set new goals, exceed my limits, and gain confidence to become a better leader within my chapter and area. Agriculture is something I am truly passionate about, and this is what drives my desire to be a servant leader. It would be an unparalleled experience to expand my skills while serving Georgia FFA as an advocator of leadership, personal growth, and career success while serving as an ambassador for Georgia's largest industry.

FFA and the agriculture industry have become my passions. It's an unbelievably fulfilling path and I would love the opportunity to share my passion with other FFA members while being an influence they can use to find their own path. Serving as a state officer, of an organization that has changed the trajectory of my life, would be a privilege. It is an honor to have the chance to cultivate the hopes and dreams of over 42,000 students and invest in their own transformation. This is why I want to serve.

I don't think I could ever truly put into words my love for the National FFA Organization. I have been given a tremendous amount of opportunities. I have made friends that have become a second family. What would be a greater honor than to give back to the people who have helped to shape me into who I am today? I want to make sure that each and every agriculture student has the same opportunities as I did. I want to serve you, Georgia FFA.

The National FFA Organization has been my passion since 2012. I have had the opportunity to serve as a Chapter and Area FFA officer as well as an active FFA member I have attended Discovery, Greenhand, and Success Conferences since the sixth grade. These events have allowed me to grow and realize that I want to serve and impact the lives of students not only locally but statewide. I would love the opportunity to assist in educating students and members of Georgia FFA about the endless possibilities that agriculture offers.

I have had the honor of serving Area One as their Junior Representative and Reporter. I have also been able to serve my chapter for the past three years as Chapter President. I have helped represent the FFA in my community and encouraged the community to support the FFA in our area. I have strived and worked hard to serve Georgia FFA. I want to continue this work as a state officer. I love the FFA and want to be able to represent it at a State level.
